WM. RIPPEY'S DELUSION.

He Thought Mackay had Robbed his Safe Deposit Box.

A new story is told in connection with the shooting of Mackay by Rippey.

It appears that some years ago Rippey rented a box in the Safe Deposit Company in San Francisco but never put any money in it. He would call frequently and take out his box only to find it empty. His face always assumed a disappointed look. When he saw the empty box he began charging the officials of the institution with having robbed him. He finally got it into his head that John Mackay was the man and it is not improbable that some one who had a spite against Mackay hearing that Rippey was laboring under the hallucination that he had been robbed suggested to him that Mackay was the party and as soon as this idea got possession of his mind he brooded over it until he finally got his pistol and started out for revenge.

It is now in order to find out who suggested the idea to Rippey.

A Question of Mileage.

At the last meeting of the Board of County Commissioners all three Commissioners drew down fees for mileage, Morris, $126.49, Bray, $22.80, Martin, $18.60.

The law provides that the Commissioners shall be allowed 15 cents a mile for the miles traveled in going to and from the County seat.

Morris did not live in the County seat and had a right to charge under the law.

Martin and Bray both lived in Carson and how they could make out that they traveled any number of miles in going to and from the county seat is a mystery.

An Electric Headlight.

An electric headlight for locomotives is being tried on headlamps in California. The new headlight throws a strong and brilliant light a distance of 2000 feet along the track in front of the train, whereas the old oil light throws a ray of light for about 1000 feet, at which distance the engineer can see an obstacle on the track, but not so distinctly as at the greater distance under the electric light. A small dynamo placed on the top of the boiler of the locomotive supplies the electric current for the light.

A Lively Storm.

Vienna, March 10.—Lichtenwarth, a village of 1100 inhabitants in Lower Austria, has been swept by a terrific thunderstorm, which lasted for fifteen hours. During the storm the lightning was almost incessant and was terrific.

Cleveland in a Hole.

New York, March 10.—A Washington special says: Cleveland is quoted as saying to a Senator that it would be necessary to issue bonds or call an extra session of Congress. If there were any prospect of accomplishing anything by an extra session he would call it, but there seems to be no such prospect.

Friday the 22nd of April has been proclaimed Arbor Day by the Governor.

The Supreme Court will be in session to day.

CONSOLIDATING UTAH.

Senator Stewart is hard at work sounding Senatorial sentiment upon the plan to attach Utah to Nevada during the next Congress. Several years ago, when it was proposed to annex Idaho to this State, the Nevada Legislature passed a law permitting the Federal Government to attach new territory to the State of Nevada. As the law stands unrepealed it will only require concerted action of the two Houses of Congress to wipe out the Territory of Utah and add 200,000 population to the 41,000 who people Nevada. Senator Jones is understood to be strongly in favor of the plan, and many Senators who would have opposed Utah's admission alone, will vote for a proposition which will not increase the silver vote in the Senate, and which they urge would make a strong State out of one which they claim is now tottering from weakness.

Nevada Butter.

Nevada, from being a butter importing community, is now shipping that commodity abroad in large quantities. And this Nevada creamery butter is equal to the best, and by all odds superior to that made in California, with which it comes in competition. The Reno Gazette notes the shipment of twelve tons of Carson creamery butter, consigned to firm in Elgin, Illinois. This is almost like "carrying coals to Newcastle." Here in Utah we import a large portion of the butter which we use, but this should not be. Utah is better adapted to butter making than Nevada, but there will be hard times just as long as we import more than we export of the necessities of life.—Ogden Standard.

Didn't Want to Bury him Twice.

Last week William Thomas sent the following telegram to his father in Virginia City:

George Thomas, Virginia City, Nev.:—William Thomas died this evening. What shall we do with remains?

(Signed) WILLIAM ANDERSON. Now it appears that some years ago Bill Thomas worked the same scheme on the old man for $100.

An Honest Man.
